SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Young children’s early relationships with parents and other caregivers become the framework for their future social and emotional development. Children construct knowledge about the world through their social exchanges, signifying the importance of social and emotional development to all other areas of development. For these reasons, early attachments are critical to children’s overall health, development and learning.

The Florida Early Learning and Developmental Standards will guide educators and families as they support a child’s learning from birth through age five. As children grow, their ability to establish relationships with peers and with additional adults influences how they view themselves and the world. Positive and adaptive social behaviors result from interacting with others who have different characteristics and backgrounds. With the help of supportive adults, young children expand their capacities to recognize and express their own feelings, and to understand and respond to the emotions of others.

First Teacher: A Parent’s Guide to Growing and Learning is a guide to your child’s development and has activities for you to support your child’s learning during daily routines and play. These activities will help your child’s development and provide the building blocks for his future success in school and life. Take a look through our First Teacher books for guidance on your child’s development and how to encourage them to explore, learn and grow.

Just Read, Families!

Reading Begins at Home

Strong parental involvement is a key component of the Just Read, Florida! initiative. Other than helping your children to grow up happy and healthy, the most important thing that you can do for them is help them develop their reading skills.

Babies

Read to your baby for short periods several times a day. As you read, point out things in the pictures. Name them as you point to them. Cardboard or cloth books with large simple pictures of things with which babies are familiar are the best books to begin with.

Children Ages 1-4

Talk with your child as you read together. Point to pictures and name what is in them. When he is ready, ask him to do the same. Ask him about his favorite parts of the story and answer his questions about events or characters.

Wherever you are with your child, point out individual letters in signs, billboards, posters and books. When he is 3 to 4 years old, ask him to begin finding and naming some letters.
